SD DENR Asbestos Waste Management Program

- All institutional, commercial, public and industrial structures, installations and buildings are regulated. Residential buildings, including condominiums or individual dwelling units operated as residential cooperatives, with more than four dwelling units are also regulated.
- Single family residences usually are exempt, unless a group of residences on the same site under the same ownership are demolished or renovated as part of a larger project, such as highway construction or building expansion.
- For demo projects on commercial buildings call the SD Dept. of environment & Natural Resources at (605) 773-3153
